TABLE OF

Foreword

We, the editors of the 1959 Black and Gold are proud to present to you this annual. We chose Sayonara as our theme, for we thought it fitting since it was the theme of the Junior-Senior given by the graduating class of this year. We hope that you will enjoy this annual, and that it will bring back pleasant memories of the past years.

CALENDAR

September

In September we spent much of our time goofing off outdoors . . .

But then there were the serious moments which we'll never forget . . .

"Red and the boys" made us proud of our school . . .

While these big wheels kept up our spirit . . .

October

October brought the fair and Kitty wanted a teddy bear . . .

The cheerleaders kept our home fire burning . . .

REVIEW

Then came College Day—a big decision . . .

And choosing our homecoming queen was another hard choice . . .

Carl said "cheese" for his junior picture . . .

The big mob with a "trick" instead of a "treat".

November

Our "Men of Steel" were still challenging as November rolled around . . .

And many a senior's thoughts changed from football to college boards . . .

C S L S

Hard work paid off for these on this surprising day . . .

And the "Crop Hop" completed this month's activities.

December

December was full of Christmas parades . . .

And unexpected interferences with our school work . . .

This was the real awakening of the true Christmas spirit.

The Thanksgiving flag raising . . .

And of course, the Christmas presents we all wanted? . . .

January started the year off right when everybody rocked on
"ole no. 6" . . .

And Ann Herring was crowned homecoming queen for our basketball team.

While the basketball games drew quite a crowd . . .

At the football banquet "The Boys" had a ball . . .

February

Ice skating was the fad in February . . .

And there was never ceasing spirit at the Hi-Y games.

March

In blew March with the baseball season . . .

Snow cones are a part of every baseball game . . .

And primping for the Spring Prom . . .

The annual Black and Gold game presented many laughs by the teachers.

April

In buzzed April . . .

With still more baseball? . . .

And the talk began about our summer plans.

Working our heads off for the junior-senior . . .

Relaxing after it . . .

May

And just hanging around the landing are all part of the merry month of May.

June is the month for our long awaited graduation . . .

And finally our annual trips to the beach!

The first "dips" in the pool . . .

Class Sponsor

Macbeth and Sam Johnson you taught so well,
Grammar, poetry, and how to spell.
And other things we learned from you
Throughout our lives will help us do
Tasks to aid man, to do our parts
Thanks, Miss Stephenson, from the bottom of our hearts!

Class Mascot

Flake Steel, our mascot
Reelin', rockin', man he's hot!
Genevieve's brother, Class's joy,
Little Flake—that's our boy.

Black and Gold

Art Editors, Marty Hutcherson and Jean Lippels, make sketches in the annual dummy.

Our photographers I. B. Southerland and Warren Sams, pose true to form with camera in hand as usual.

Editor-in-Chief, G. G. Saunders, and Assistant Editor Mary Elizabeth Hunt, look forward to the day the yearbook comes out—without flaw.

"And now to get these pictures in alphabetical order," say Pat Ward and Barbara Watson, our hard-working Senior Editors.

Fun, enthusiasm, and worry . . . Warren's statement, "Let's get more pages—all we have to do is talk to the school board!" . . . staff's trip to Charlotte . . . keeping the theme a secret . . . G.G. and Mary Elizabeth forever changing the dummy and wondering if it will all be finished by February 10 . . . our steadies: Marty and Warren, always conversing over something important (?) . . . get that art work done, Jean and Marty! . . . Photos (?) by Sams.

Lynn Taxis and Martha Chew, our Write-Up Editors look on as Anne Barnes, Faculty Editor and April Collier, Caption Editor check some faculty pictures.

G. G. Saunders, Mary Elizabeth Hunt, Barbara Watson, and Marty Hutcherson inspect some of the equipment at Delmar in Charlotte, our publishers.

Pine Whispers

Art Editors, Henry Sapp and Julie Ann Jackson, are kept busy illustrating the Pine Whispers.

Our accomplished Editorial Staff is made up of Merle Robin, Anne Barnes, and June Peace.

The journalism room never ceases to laugh with our Feature Editors, April Collier, Gail Grupenhof, and Betsy Dunn.

The master-minds back of our school paper, Editor-in-Chief, Cleve Fletcher and Chris Farren, Assistant Editor, dream up ideas for the next issue.

Late hours are no object when Chris has a deadline.

All's calm in 124—until the "deadly deadline" strikes! . . . Cleve in a tizzy because all the stories aren't in . . . Chris, calm, cool, and collected (?) . . . Cleve, Chris, Fries, and Kat assigning stories and dreaming up editorials . . . counting out 2,000 papers before school—fun? . . . laughing at second year journalists frantically studying for exams (especially when you're a third year student!) . . . lots of work, but lots of fun.

Our Exchange and Circulation Editors are: Cherie Wagoner, Cecile Mayrand, Robin LaPrelle, Ann Warren, and Norma Goldberg.

Norman Wilkerson, Fries Shaffner, Kat Creech, and Wally Dunham keep us well informed on sports in our school.

The National Honor Society

Officers of the National Honor Society: Sally Rice, Treasurer; Ann Sarratt, President; Bill Clingman, Vice President; and Linda Tesh, Secretary, stop to have their picture made.

Advisor, Miss Collette . . . 8 o'clock Wednesday—rushing to meetings in 316 . . . sponsoring first devotional chapel . . . organizing College Day . . . planning inductions . . . keeping them a secret . . . collecting Christmas presents for needy families . . . sponsoring Vocational Guidance Week and Faculty Appreciation Day . . . State Convention . . . City Convention—Bill Clingman, president . . . annual picnic with Hanes and Gray.

Old members give National Honor Society pins to new members in the fall induction.

Tie for State Championship

The 1958 edition of R.J.R's Black Demons proved to be the "winningest" team in the glorious football history of Reynolds High School . . . Rolling over eleven consecutive opponents with powerful victories . . . Demons were barely stopped short of a perfect season by unbeaten Wilson . . . the teams fought to a 6-6 tie thus sharing the State AAA Football Championship crown . . . Great coaching evident in the work of "Red" Wilson, his second year as head coach . . . Back coach Herman Bryson who has helped send previous Reynolds teams to Championship games . . . Line coach Will Alexander, former Co-Captain of the Demons . . . Some of the seasons highlights: vicious charging of the offensive line led by Dick Voorhees, Jack Marshall, Fries Shaffner, and Larry Crutchfield . . . great pass catching by Felda Hightower and Bill Chipman, who caught five for five for 175 yards . . . rough defensive play by Center Rufus McAden who didn't make a poor snap all season . . . quarterbacking duties by Johnny Reich who turned in some fine blocking performances . . . the tricky elusiveness of Wingback Bobby Hawn who scored fourteen times on his well-run reverse play . . . Tommy Cummings's long touchdown runs which proved to be the most exciting . . . and the smashing line bucks and beautiful openfield running of Fullback Wally Dunham . . . comeback victory over strong Charlotte Central . . . the thorough stomping of old rivals Greensboro, Asheville, and Salisbury . . . and the bruising defensive play of Bob Miller, Glenn Salmons, Larry Holcomb, John Mauzy, Britt Smith, and Jimmy Chris.

FOOTBALL

State championship we're on the way; It all got started with Hanes and Gray . . .

East Mecklenburg was number four; They got beat by a great big score . . .

Our next home game was good for kicks; We beat Burlington 27-6 . . .

Our next big game was a victory; Wilmington Wildcats were number three . . .

Homecoming game was really a drive; Salisbury was number five . . .

Our next big victory was all set; Gastonia's Green Waves were all wet . . .

REVIEW

Charlotte made it number nine; Ole' school spirit was really fine . . .

High Point Bison didn't rate; 13-0 made it number eight . . .

We caught ol' Greensboro unaware; The Whirlies were just a lot of hot air . . .

Asheville, Asheville, who are they? Tiny little hillbillies stuffed with hay . . .

Last of all was Wilson; We went all the way in triple A!!!

Steve Heckard tries to get out of the way of a High Point player.

Class Prophecy

Cleve: Good morning, ladies and gentlemen, and welcome to another edition of World News Wrap Up, brought to you daily over WRJR radio by the Bobby Miller Co., makers of corn plasters for the wounded athlete. My name is Cleve "Nose-for-News" Fletcher, and I shall introduce today's guests. But first, a word about the wonderful product that brings you our show . . . Bobby Miller's Corn Plasters, heartily recommended by the Thos. Boose Testing Bureau. The members of this famous bureau who tested our product and found it excellent include the following: Velma McGee, prima ballerina for the Stanton Scarlett Theater; Don Upton, field-goal kicker for the Clemons Tigers; Neal Senkus, watchman at Elizabeth Parker's noodle pressing factory; and Charlie Hill, who digs ditches for the San Quentin Benevolence Association. With all these experts recommending our product, you can't go wrong if you buy Bobby Miller's Corn Plasters for the wounded athlete.

Now on with the program. Today's guests are Kate Inkwell, Senator from East Hong Kong and President of the Lunchbreaker's Club; Linda Bosh, famous fashion designer from Paris, S. C.; Martha Mauler the Magic Miler, who recently ran from the gym to the cafeteria in twelve minutes flat; Jay "Never-Say-Dye" Fearrington, society play girl from Peter's Creek; and Pierre Freek, motion picture director from Siberia. Now I want you guests just to talk naturally and, in the course of the conversation, to give us "news from around the world and around the nation."

Kate: I have just come back from my seventh world tour by the new Mickey Boles Intercontinental Ballistic helicopter. When I returned, I was met at the airport by Ape Craver and his Grunting Five. This is the group that recorded the smash hit "The Ballad of Jack Marshall" or "The Valleydale National Anthem." Their players are very famous: Harry "Valve-Pusher" Day, the trumpeter; Beth "Bongos" Heitman, the drummer; and Pat Harpe, the celebrated violin tuner.

Jay: Why, they played at last week's opening of Dennis Gallagher's ranch, the Bar J R. Texan Maryellen Smith is chief cowgirl there; Peggy Stephenson and Susan Ledwith are broncobusters; and David "Dogie" Hedrick is the foreman Cliff Smith is designer of saddles specializing in those for dudes.

Linda: I saw Cliff's ex-partner, John Sigmon, the other day. He has gone from saddle to sack designing. His creations are being modeled at Rodney Hatcher's Wee Women's Shop by Ann McDowell, Linda Reynolds, and Nancy Holmes.

Peter: You western fans will be interested to know that I am directing the new Carol Mabe production, The Saga of Edwin Kimel, written by psychology professor Margaret Kirby, produced by Emily Shaver, and starring Monroe Heller. One guest star is to be Bill "Muscles" Reed. I'm looking for another one.

Martha: What about prize-fighters Carol Nicholas, Frances Waddell, or Pat Peterson? But I believe they are busy right now trying to maintain harmony between the conflicting forces of Susan Powers and June Peace. By the way, Pierre, I know of a good prospect for a film. Alex Thompson, chief executioner at Sing Sing, is writing his memoirs in behalf of the Arch Scales Fund for rheumatic croquet players.

Cleve: Senator, how did you find the state of world affairs during your world tour?

Kate: Oh, there is startling news! White House cook Jane Lemmons is visiting Mary Kerr, famous Parisian chef for Buddy Johnson Enterprises, in order to perfect some new culinary feats. I met Admiral Donald Pickard's expedition in Monte Carlo. He, Gen. Bill James, and Commander Jim McMichael were ordered to establish a new U. S. mint there. On my way home I passed Pat Hedrick, Margaret Higgins, and Sue Tate, who have been sent on a goodwill tour to the South Pole, where they will judge the annual harpooning contest, won last year by Linda Waldrop.

Linda: Did you go by Paris? The Martha Ann Martin Museum is featuring a special collection of modern art paintings by Marvin "Picasso" Ferrebee, that you really should see. Two of the best are "View of Reynolds Auditorium as Seen from the Moon," purchased by Tommy Blackburn and "Ecstatic Boredom" (modeled by Rusty Crump). Another South Carolina attraction last week was the Patsy Ebert and Evelyn McKnight rendition of Sonata Number One (the Hound Dog) by Roy Meacham. Gwendolyn Baily played in the orchestral background. Carolyn Arnold, Elizabeth Helsabeck and Edith Ray all agreed that the entire concert was well presented.

Jay: The social world has really been sparkling lately: The Chummy Grubbs Philosophers' Club was entertained recently by Martha Tate, the operatic contralto. One of the members, Felda, "The Hermit" Hightower, even came in from his lake dwelling establishment on the Yadkin River founded by Glenn Salmons. I was unable to attend because I was at the grand opening of Jack Davis and Jill Hartman's Jack and Jill Ski-lift up Demon Hill. Betty Hensley did her Indian rope trick for entertainment.

Cleve: And now we must take time out for a brief word from our sponsor. "Do you have that let down feeling known in medical circles as mental deficiency, anemia, or, as we call it, "Monday Morning Miseries?" Take our product Yllar-Pep for relief. In less than seven days you will feel those intellectual pangs again. Remember to listen to the David Howell Song Fest tonight sponsored by our glorious product. As his guests David will have Charles Fulton and Robert Johnson, famous Swiss yodelers from Pilot Mountain. And remember, Yllar-Pep spelled backwards is Pep Rally.

Now back to World News Wrapup! Pierre, will you take us behind the scenes in Hollywood?

Peter: My own newest venture is directing a new Talcott Avera production, the Secret Life of Silas Marner, starring Barrett "Rock" Hunter and Merle "Rockin" Robin.

Martha: Isn't that an adaptation of Dr. Larry Vickers' prize-winning novel, "The Superior Man, a Study in Psychology?"

Peter: Yes, it is. It was published by the Brenda Snow Printing Company. They sponsor "Father Knows Best" starring Paul Watson, and also Ronnie Swaim's quiz show with permanent contestants Kay Tucker, Sarah Turner, and Jeff Shields.

Martha: Did you hear that Robert Shutt, Bill Marcuson, and Fred Tanner, the tug of war ex-champions, were defeated in a grueling three-hour contest by Kay Ezzell, Barbara Watson, and Jean Lewis? But those three girls want to forfeit their title to Stephanie Harris, Ginger Simmons, and Patsy Deal, who just signed contracts with Jack Daniels's Talent Agency. I suppose they want to turn to television too.

Jay: Many people are doing that. Suzanne Harrell is mistress of ceremonies for the $63,000 Answer, sponsored by the Martha Chew Railways. Frank Vestal and Jerry Trivett, ballet performers, starred in the T. V. production of James Edwards's Ballet, Topsy Part two, directed by Vickie Shermer.

Linda: I think T. V. takes away much interest today from reading. Several good books have been published lately! Wally Dunham, the Aristotle of America, has written a new book entitled, "Elegy on a Fullback," and Glenn Blackburn recently announced the completion of his translation of Julius Caesar into Pig Latin.

Class Prophecy

Kate: Washington has been busy recently. Peggy Legette set a new filibuster record when she unsuccessfully tried to defeat Norma Goldberg's amendment to the Constitution granting full citizenship to Australian Bushmen.

Martha: My goodness! Charles Davis, forest ranger in the Smokies, just discovered a new Indian tribe living in the trees. Nicky Bambalis, U. N. interpreter, is trying to learn their language.

Peter: I hope they are not as fierce as those in the British Honduras jungle, where Dick Voorhees and David Simpson were stranded until rescued by George Allen and his faithful troop of Saint Bernards. These dogs were seen last week on the Steve Clark Bird Dog Show. That is the show which first introduced Vickie Kestler, the brilliant pantomimist, who has brought silent movies back into popularity.

Linda: Jay, what was that scandal I read about in Deanne Pratt's column in the Judy Joyner Journal?

Jay: That is the latest in the society whirl. Daring playboy David Staley and his valet, Darrell Hodges, were seen chasing Andy Conway, the famous auto scion, down Thunder Road. This stretch of highway was paved by Larry Smith, George Durham, Lucy Ford, and Becky Howell.

Kate: A top news story also occurred when the House Bull-shooting Committee, headed by Supreme Court Justice Eddie Bouldin, the ex-liontamer, and famous marriage counsellor, Peggy Ann Smith, subpoenaed mobster and gang leader Wild Bill Wallace. Secretary of State Mike Sovine and his bodyguards, Bill Chipman, Robert Bailey, and Jimmy Chris, helped crack the case with information from John Elkins and George Poulos, historians for the Martie Kimel Detective Agency.

Cleve: Martha, I believe that you are preparing to attend the Olympics.

Martha: Oh yes! I am especially anxious for our pinacle king, Pete Walther, to become world champion. We will be represented by others also. Donna Loflin is training channel swimmer Gay Mayrand, who just beat Louise Roland in the Muddy Creek Marathon. Sandra Henderson will enter the marble contest and Betty Ann Meador will demonstrate dual exhaust magic carpets designed by Nancy Raum on behalf of the Peggy Sutton Magic Carpet Makers' Corporation. Ann Herring and Bebe Bradshaw, coached by John McGowan, will enter the "bugging" race.

Cleve: And now, time out for a word from our sponsor. Today we are going to have a rather unusual commercial. We are introducing to you the MARVELOUS new miracle Memory Drug discovered by the famous research scientist, Professor Lawrence Rettinger. Just one dose and you can remember things as far in the past as your high school years. To demonstrate the power of this drug, I shall ask each member of the panel to take some. Let's all stand right over here. Now to prove that this demonstration is really authentic, I myself shall take some.

Martha: I feel dizzy. Everything is blurry. Where am I? Oh! now it's getting clearer. I see the old halls of Reynolds High School. There we are as ninth graders. After a year of being unobserved, we were proud to be noticed by the upperclassmen. Some of us were even allowed to participate in the student government. Jean Pearce was elected Student Council representative from our class. David Blanco not only represented us on the House Court, but also was president of our class, an office which he held through the next two years. He was president of the freshman Hi-Y. The clubs to which most of us belonged were led by Katherine Motsinger, president of the Y-Teens; and Tommy Cummings, president of the Freshman Boy's Club. Peggy Legette was president of the Freshman Service Club and was also voted into the Teenage Council with Genevieve Steele and Allen Harris. Jeanette Tate and Linda Jessup busied themselves as office pages filing excuses, running errands, and helping students and visitors in the office. Down at the gym Betty Wallin, and Janice McGrady called the roll and generally hindered Miss Dinkins as gym leaders. And there we are as tenth graders.

Cleve: We became sophomores and felt only a little less important than the glorious seniors and certainly equal to the juniors when we finally got our drivers licenses. Kate Blackwell was elected treasurer of the Student Council, and Jean Pearce and David Blanco were sophomore representatives. In the House of Representatives Becky Howell was treasurer. Jo Ann Foster and Bobby Hawn as president of the Sophoteers and of the Sophomore Boys' Club respectively, led us in service projects and social adventures. Charlotte Finwall was elected treasurer of the G.A.A. Marching before the band as first string majorettes were Kay Wall and Kay Currin.

Linda: I see us after a summer filled with Myrtle Beach explorations and WTOP tower excursions, treading the corridors of R. J. R. once again. This was no ordinary September: we were upperclassmen. David Blanco, Johnny Reich, Katherine Motsinger, and Don Foltz were our class officers. They did a fine job of planning the Junior-Senior with the artistic help of Marty Hutcherson, using the theme "Sayonara." Kate Blackwell was elected secretary of the Student Council, and Katherine Motsinger, secretary of the House. Nicky Bambalis was our representative to the House. We had many talented journalists among us. Merle Robin was assistant editor of the Black and Gold, while Cleve Fletcher was managing editor of Pine Whispers. Among those inducted into the Quill and Scroll were Kat Creech, Gail Grupenhof, and Julie Ann Jackson. Joan Carpenter Tucker and Peter Freed were two of those elected for membership into the Masque and Gavel. Later, Peter and his debating partner won the State Debating Championship.

Peter: Yes, and working to combine the Hi-Y and Y Teen Clubs for a joint fashion show were Rufus McAden and G. G. Saunders. John Mauzy handled the money in the S.S.C. and Bobby Hawn laboriously scribbled Key Club notes. Moving into the realm of business ventures we find that Forrest Williamson led the Serviteers in selling Reynolds stationery. Carol Turner ably presided at meetings of the Library Staff. Traveling down through the tunnel we find many sporting Demons on the field and in the gym. Throughout our exciting football season Mary Jane Allen provided half-time entertainment. During the summer Kate Blackwell brought honor to our school and to herself by being elected President of Girls' Nation.

Jay: Another vacation of sand and foam whizzed by and we finally obtained the right to assume senior sophistication. Kate Blackwell was elected to the position of president, while Tommy Cummings assisted Kate as our vice-president. Kitty Motsinger and Kent Wall were Speaker and Speaker Protempore of the House, respectively. Leading us through the year's responsibilities were officers Alice Edwards, Johnny Reich, Linda Tesh, and Neil Williams, with the help of Bob Vermilya, Jackie Holder, Julia Pindexter and Margaret Day and other members of the Executive Committee. Again our clubs were hard at work. Ann Sarratt as president of the N. H. S. led old members Bill Clingman, Richard Huffman, Jean Kelsey and Linda Tesh in initiating Andrew Lyon, Anna Strader, and Lynn Taxis.

Eleanor Cooke and Rufus McAden headed the Y-Teens and Hi-Y, while the Key Club, led by Tommy Cummings, and the S.S.C., led by Rufus McAden, carried on a kind of friendly rivalry. In the art department Martha Marler received very high praise in the form of the Scholastic Art Award. Cleve Fletcher was Editor-in-Chief of Pine Whispers and G. G. Saunders, of the Black and Gold

Jo Ann Foster held the presidency of the G.A.A. and helped to organize a very successful year of varsity and intramural sports. The reign of football in our senior year played an even more important part in school life than in previous years. We were Co-Champions of the state. That's when our victorious team was led by co-captains Tommy Cummings and Rufus McAden. Cheering and marching our team on to victory were Carolyn Lineberger, chief cheerleader, and Key Wall, chief majorette. In the Demon outfit that year was Rusty Plemmons. Later in the year football relinquished popularity to basketball, with Neil Williams as captain of the team. Don Bryant and Don Foltz helped spark the baseball team when the joyous season of spring came. Participating in the Children's Home sports the year-round were Carl Hunt, Fred Tanner, Roy Byrd, David Simpson, and Allan Satterwhite.

Finally achieving our goal we, upon graduation night, looked back over all the unforgettable memories of Reynolds with mixed feelings. We were sad thinking of leaving, but even more so we were happy thinking of the lasting friendships made and of the wonderful years spent there.

Cleve: The drug is wearing off now. We're back at the radio station! Ladies and gentlemen, wasn't that miraculous? A real trip into the past through this marvelous miracle drug!

Peter: Commercials are always with us aren't they? Jeanie Cress and Kaylynn Ogburn are now doing commercials for Jean Heckard's reptile farm.

Jay: Oh, yes, Jean Heckard's farm manager is Margaret Newell, the rattlesnake tamer.

Kate: I remember when she had an act with Judy Childress, the elephant girl, who has signed a new contract with Martha Masten Studios.

Peter: Hartley Clowes, known as the happy whistler, is with these studios, too. He has a new record out entitled "The Sam Stimson Stomp."

Linda: The Raymond Kirkman Educational Society sent me some good news. Ramona Thomas has opened a new reform school with Warden Don Cason, principal. Also, the Eric Mock University has opened a new course—lizardry. The teacher is Treasure Allen, who wrestles alligators. She learned the art from Olivia Coe, who also has an Elocution School which Tommy Watts and Bob Leonard now attend.

Jay: Speaking of schools, the Anne Barnes Dog School for the underprivileged pooch, chose Bob Marshall and Joe Vaughn among the ten best dressed men of the year. They marched in the Monta Owings' Best Dressed Men's Parade led by professional majorettes Judy Rice, Madonna Sullivan, and Shirley Brown, and photographed by Ray Shutt.

Kate: John Middleton, Senator from North Carolina, introduced a bill in Congress to congratulate Frank Wiles, 3rd string pitcher for the Tiny Demons baseball team, for having been traded to Boston in exchange for Thomas Hobbs and Eddie Holder. Also, a clause was included to congratulate Joanne Fulp, Reba Hargrove, Janice Martin, and Martha Bridges for being named N. C. Piedmont Bowling Club women of the week. It was passed unanimously.

Martha: I think we should congratulate Bill "Casanova" Carson and Tommy Jacobs for setting a new Olympic knitting record.

Linda: Senator Inkwell, haven't some appointments from Washington been announced by Capital Propaganda Chairman Erwin Maddrey?

Kate: Yes, John Church is the new presidential advisor on flat feet for tired golfers. Pat Ward has been promoted to chief welfare officer in N. C. Cherie Wagoner was hardly appointed presidential aid when she authorized construction of an underground open air swimming pool by Roma Combs and Tom Wilson. The former aid, Ben Trotter, left to complete his design of a new strain of potato to fit any exhaust pipe.

Linda: You may be interested to know that three finalists have at last been chosen by the Elaine Humphry Fund in the best model of the year contest: Jim McKnight and Bob Cox, both toga modelers, and Jean Lippels, who models for "Vogue."

Martha: Her hair is red now. She bought some dye from Ronald Hamilton. He, Janie Dull, and Gordon Bennett are selling it for the Jay Farringtton Fan Club.

Jay: I saw Larry Holcomb trying to organize an Elvis Presley Fan Club. Sylvia Baity, John Meditz, and Norman Russell had just turned him down.

Peter: That's too bad. Maybe he can get some help from Martha Frye, honorary boardwasher, and Bunny "Hula" Hooper who manages Richard Farringtton and Elmore Starling's 101 Different Fan Clubs Company. They just set one up for Ruth Hartle, new cartoonist for Judy Renn's famous comic strip, "Joe Myers, Space Cadet."

Linda: Have you heard that Sally Rice is now advertising on behalf of Sue Wallace's throat spray for the active talker? South Carolina was thrilled to hear that this product will sponsor the annual cornhusking squaredance in co-operation with Betty Westmoreland and Linda Anderson's band which has played at this festive occasion for the last eight years.

Martha: Why, that's just thrilling. Did you know that Becky Horn and Larry Budd have invented a new strain of budless rose? They are naming it the Craig Greene variety in honor of that famous horticulturist. Jerry Wilson, president of the Rose-growers' Union, called it the greatest flower advance since Patsy Sugg and Frances Smith invented the roseless bud.

Jay: Pottery manufacturers Stafford Peebles and Bill Lovell are displaying the new rose on all their merchandise. Incidentally, only forty percent of Californian Eskimos speak Latin; so Dorothy Wilson and Sybil Todd are rushing to California to instruct them.

Peter: Linda Johnson's New York-San Francisco ferry boat is conveying the two intrepid teachers to California free of charge. Also - - -

Cleve: Pierre, I'm sorry to interrupt you but we have just received a vital news bulletin. Sen. Inkwell, as this is a communique of tremendous political significance, will you read it to the people of America who have been awaiting its arrival with breathless expectation for several months?

Kate: WILL AND TESTAMENT

Juniors, let us be congratulated!
It took us five years, but we've graduated.
Cheer up! We're not leaving you high and dry,
We think our will makes a pleasant good-bye.

We bequeath our school and pride in her fame
To Mr. Joyner, who made Reynolds more than a name.
We'd like to keep Miss Hazel, our sponsor true,
But we leave her, knowing you'll need her too.

We bestow now the treasures of class memories,
The ones that only the senior sees.
We think we're a little special, though,
So we take our "high spirits" now as we go.

Class Prophecy

Something we're really proud to leave
Is the conference crown our team did receive.
This year our boys were first to play,
But next year you juniors will lead the way.

Always striving to make our team better,
Wally leaves to L. H. his letter.
Rufus and Carl leave ability fine
To the team where "Crutch" leaves a hole in the line.

Charlotte's route down to the gym door
Is left for Beth Swaim to travel some more.
Odom wills her inquiring mind
To someone with answers for her to find.

For juniors Warren has just the thing:
A do-it-yourself camera from our photo king.
Velma McGee plays the violin well
And bestows her talent to Nancy Wassell.

Eleanor always has pep to spare,
So Phyllis Snyder gets half her share.
Mike with much sorrow does give Frances Speas,
A gallon of gas and his shiny car keys.

Kemp bequeaths her efficient ways
To someone who knows that hard work pays.
From Peggy Legette to Meriel goes
Friendliness toward all whom she knows.

Jean Pearce leaves to Cricket her "rockin" style;
Dorothy gets Sally's friendly smile.

And now its April who has been named
To receive Betsy Dunn's "fruit basket" famed.

The Checkers bequeath, although with some doubts,
Their shining success to the dimming Black-Outs.
To Lyle, Fries leaves his muscles of lead;
Allen relinquishes his curls to "Head."

Carolyn, with her own pleasant mem'ries in mind,
Leaves Reynolds and two little "burgers" behind.
Our cheerleader Linda gives wise words of knowledge:
"Have fun in high school, for soon there comes college."

One essential thing we leave cheerfully;
The right to senior superiority.
But may we give you one word of advice,
What you gain at Reynolds has no price.

We pass with a smile and some regret,
For we are a part of all we have met.
Yesterday was bright, but we have tomorrow,
So now to you Reynolds, Sayonara.

Cleve: Thank you, Senator, for that inspiring message. We are sad to see that our time is almost up and that we will soon have to return you to our studio. This program has come as the result of four years of preparation and it is with a mixed feeling of sadness and joy that we, the senior class of 1958-1959 wish you a fond farewell. May your years at Reynolds be as rewarding as ours have been. This is World News Wrapup signing off the air and saying:

All: Sayonara.
